

IEEE LATIN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE ON COMMUNICATIONS

6 - 8 November 2024
Medellín, Colombia

CALL FOR PAPERS

In 2024, the 16th IEEE Latin American Conference on Communications (LATINCOM) is organized again in Medellín, Colombia, after eight years, by Universidad de Antioquia.

The organizing committee hopes that this edition of the conference contributes to tighten links among the members of the scientific and academic community in the communications area by providing a space for sharing ideas and generating collaboration opportunities among practitioners and researchers from different countries.

Topics of Interest

The IEEE LATINCOM 2024 organizing committee is inviting submissions of original, unpublished, high-quality research papers or tutorials focusing on (not limited to) the following topics of interest:

- Mobile and Wireless Networking
- Communication Services, Software and Multimedia Applications
- Communication QoS, Reliability and Performance Modeling
- Optical Networks
- Communications Theory and Signal Processing
- Next Generation Networking and Internet
- AI, Big Data and ML for Networking
- Selected Areas in Communications

Important Dates:

Paper submission deadline: 8 July 2024
